Option 1: Travel and Reentry

Travel to your home country and apply for the F-1 visa at the local U.S. Embassy or Consulate. You can enter the U.S. with your I-20 and F-1 visa no earlier than 30 days before the I-20 start date.

Option 2: Change of Status in the U.S.

Submit your change of status application to United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). Mail a paper application to the USCIS Lockbox.

Notes

USCIS regulations prohibit beginning a full course of study until the change of status to F-1 is approved. F-1 status cannot begin earlier than 30 days before the start date on your I-20. You should submit your application at least three months in advance, and you must be able to maintain your current B-1/B-2 status until 30 days before the I-20 start date. If your tourist status will expire prior to 30 days before your I-20 start date, your application will most likely be denied. Even though you are allowed to stay in the U.S. while the application is pending, if your application is likely to be denied, it will be better for you to travel, obtain an F-1 visa abroad, and reenter the U.S. in F-1 status.
